Melbourne Festival presents

LAURA MARLING

Following her sold out national tour in 2013, Brit Award winner and multi Mercury Prize nominee Laura Marling returns to Melbourne for one night only with a full band on the back of her latest release, Short Movie.

At just 25, UK folk artist Laura Marling has accomplished more than many artists do their entire career. With five albums and numerous awards already under her belt, Marling’s extensive body of work is matched only by her desire to push the boundaries of her musical comfort level.

Showing further precision and maturity with each release, Marling’s already captivating sound and alluring on-stage presence have enthralled audiences since she arrived on the British indie-folk scene seven years ago.

After an uncharacteristic break for six months following her last album – Once I Was An Eagle (2013) - Marling has gathered a renewed zest for her artistry, and enriched her lyricism with fresh life perspectives to unpack in her live performance.

Self-produced, Short Movie sees Marling moving towards a bigger and more electric feel while crafting a much looser sound than anything she has done before— showing further development for an artist who is already viewed as a treasure among her contemporaries.

Marling will perform tracks from the new album as well as favourites from her catalogue of work.

In addition to her Melbourne Festival show, Marling will also be performing in Brisbane, Sydney, Adelaide and Perth.
